

Use of cellular telephones aboard airborne aircraft should be prohibited. I am a 20 year flight attendant and in my opinion this would give terrorists another tool in their mission. Not to mention how incredibly annoying and disruptive to the cabin environment. Some one shouting on the phone could be misinterpreted as possible threat to safety especially during final approach or climb out when F/A's are still on jumpseats and unable to visually confirm disturbance.